Let's Celebrate

What?

Birthday parties are a special time for children; they are in such a hurry to grow up, they look in anticipation to that magical day. Birthday parties often celebrate that event with family and friends, fun activities, and tasty treats. Why not add a puppet show to maximize the fun and create a unique experience for all your guests?

Penny's Puppet shows utilize audience participation, instill a love of music and language, and stimulate the imagination. They naturally support emotional development, improve listening skills, and develop awareness of and appreciation for the similarities in all people (and puppets).

Where?

Penny will bring her traveling puppet stage to your party along with everything else she needs for the full puppet show experience. Her travel stage measures 3 ½ by 4 feet (or a large office desk). An electrical outlet is necessary and Penny will bring an extension cord. Most homes can comfortably fit the stage in front of a fire place, but the best location will include plenty of room for guests.

Planning the Party!

How?

Typical length for a child's birthday party is one to two hours. The puppet show should be scheduled approximately 30 minutes into your event; this allows time for your guests to arrive, get acquainted and visit prior to the show. Some families plan a craft (i.e. making puppets, hats or masks) prior to the puppet show as the children arrive. Other families let the children play and do big movement activities. It all depends on your individual needs and tastes. Puppet show performance lengths vary between 30-45 minutes.

Don't forget to mention the puppet show start time on your invitations--this encourages your guests to arrive prior to the start of the show so no one misses the fun.
